1. The nerve to "take a chance" is the vital spark of competition.
overlap to:
2. The first test comes early in life - about the time a certain tooth begins to wave good-bye.
3. General Custer never faced a harder fight.
4. His main hope now is that he can at least save part of his head.
5. As the dog jumps the tooth must follow.
6. Nerve isn't a matter of years.
7. Miss Sally Lanier, aged 14, famous prize winner of Greenwich, Conn., shows the skill and courage that have won more than a hundred blue ribbons.
8. She is willing to go wherever Silvercrest, another champion prize winner, is willing to take the chance.
9. In baseball the slide to the plate means a hospital trip if the flying steel spikes happen to land.
10. Babe Ruth takes his chance at "hitting the dirt" to help win a championship.
11. Pole vaulting isn't dangerous but it takes some nerve to get that extra inch 13 feet in the air.
12. This daughter of the west takes a chance few men would follow.
Calgary, Alberta
13. Oh, well —

14. Not even a wild steer
can check her courage.
15. Another citizen who can keep his job, is the cowboy bulldogging a "longhorn". It's 50-50 as to which neck
gets the worst of it.
16. In a motorcycle race the first prize is a choice of crutches or four yards of adhesive tape.
Sinjao, N.J.
17. Second prize is the phone number of the nearest surgeon.
18. Football is one game where nerve counts for 100 per cent.
Syracuse University.
19. A flying tackle is slightly different from Mah Jong,
chess or croquet.
20. And taking a punt, with two hostile ends waiting to drive your spine into the sod, is no way for a walking to spend an afternoon.
21. The same goes for the punter who must get away
his kick in the face of a charging line.
22. The line breaker has another soft job - if you think dynamite is made of milk and mash.
23. In a big contest every play
is a test of gameness.
Penn State
and George Tech
24. Recruits for New Jersey's
State Police are tested
under fire from the start.
Trenton, N.J.
25. The higher they are the harder they fall!

26. The pyramid with a galloping base.
27. Roman stuff when Rome was rough -
28. The double nerve test - smashing a hand-held bottle with a pistol shot at 50 feet.
29. Making a piker out of William Tell.
30. Sergeant George Diblin, one of Jersey's State Troopers, must have heard good reports of the land beyond the grave.
31. His dictionary is censored - the word "Fear" has been cut out.
32. He proves that taking a chance is the foundation of his profession.
33. Standing on the saddle at 40 miles an hour!
34. No civilization is going to fade where courage is taught and developed in so many different schools of sport and life.
35. The End.
